

ANTI-DRUG COMMITTEE

Anti-drug committees in schools are established to promote a drug-free environment by implementing strict policies against drug use and possession. These committees often focus on education, prevention, and awareness campaigns to combat substance abuse among students.

The committee's primary goals are to promote awareness, prevention, and education regarding the dangers of drug use, as well as to create a safe and healthy school environment.

An anti-drug committee plays a crucial role in fostering a safe and supportive school environment. By focusing on education, prevention, and community involvement, the committee can help reduce drug use among students and promote healthier lifestyles.
